BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1932.

FORTY-FIRST YEAR, No. 42

W. L. BOURGEOIS WINS FOR CITY COMMISSIONER IN FIRST PRIMARY SAT.

G. Y. Blaize and Chas. Traub, Sr., in Second Primary for Mayor—F. H. Egloff and H. Grady Perkins for Commissioner—Vote One of Largest in City History.

Bay St. Louis held its Municipal Democratic Primary last Saturday, October 8th, for the nomination of Mayor and two commissioners to serve the four-year term beginning January 1, 1933.

The beautiful weather and brilliant sunshine coupled with the keen interest manifested in both races for mayor and commissioners brought out one of the largest votes in the history of the city, nearly one thousand votes being cast.

W. L. Bourgeois, well-known and popular business man of Bay St. Louis, polled the largest vote, receiving 628, or approximately two-thirds of the entire number cast, and was thereby declared the Democratic nominee for one of the two offices of city commissioner.

G. Y. Blaize, receiving 393 votes and Chas. Traub, Sr., 243 will enter the Second Primary for mayor, while Ferdinand H. Egloff, with 366 votes and H. Grady Perkins with 455 will battle it out for commissioner.

The Second Primary will be held this Saturday, October 15, and is expected as many, if not more, votes will be cast as were last Saturday, as the rivalry in both races is very keen.

The official count and resolutions adopted by the City Democratic Executive Committee at their meeting, October 10, 1932, follows:

"Whereas the Democratic Primary election for City officers was held as ordered, on Saturday, October 8, 1932, and the result of said Primary has been duly examined, canvassed and considered by this Committee and find that the results were as found by the managers of election and without error and necessary correction.

It is therefore resolved and ordered that the result of said Primary for the City officers, that is Mayor and Commissioners, are as follows, to-wit:

For Mayor:	393
G. Y. Blaize	393
J. O. Mauffray	186
Chas. Traub Sr.	243
R. W. Toulme	25
E. Van Whitfield	107

For Commissioners:

W. L. Bourgeois	628
Ferdinand H. Egloff	366
S. J. Ladner	273
Geo. T. W. Muller	54
H. Grady Perkins	455
J. C. Roland	119

Be it further resolved and ordered that W. L. Bourgeois be and is hereby declared the Democratic Nominee for City Commissioner.

It is further resolved that it is necessary that a Second Primary be held between two of the leading candidates for Mayor, none of said candidates receiving a majority of the votes cast and the said two leading candidates being G. Y. Blaize and Chas. Traub, Sr.

Be it further resolved that as it is necessary to nominate two candidates for the office of Commissioner of the City and only one being nominated it is therefore necessary that the next two candidates names be placed on the ballot in the Second Primary and that the said leading candidates are:

Ferdinand H. Egloff.

H. Grady Perkins.

Therefore be it resolved and ordered that said Second Primary be held on Saturday, October 15, 1932, and that proper ballots be printed with the names of said two candidates for Mayor thereon, and the names of the two candidates for Commissioners thereon.

Be it further resolved that said managers and clerks of election be and they are hereby ordered to proceed with said Second Primary as provided by law.

Adopted in open session of the Democratic Committee on October 10, 1932."

Those present and approving said order being:

H. WILBUR DRIVER:
JESSE A. COWARD.

Take Over New Duties
State Game Warden

Beginning the first of the month, Joseph V. Bontemps, former sheriff of Hancock county and more recently deputy in the sheriff's office, took over his duties as state game warden for Hancock county, and J. S. Shaw, son of Calvin Shaw, board of trustees member from beat 3, became deputy sheriff in the sheriff's office, replacing Mr. Bontemps. Mr. Shaw and Chief Deputy Horace Kergosin will share the office work in the sheriff's office.

TEACHERS GET HALF MONTH PAY

Special Arrangement Made To Secure Small Sum for Teachers—First This Session.

Hancock county teachers received half a month's salary this week, the first money that has been paid to the teachers this session, which is now in the second week of the third month of the school session. Warrants for this money were issued Wednesday by County Superintendent Alcest S. McQueen. The money for the payment of this portion of salary to the teachers was secured by Supt. McQueen through floating a small loan, guaranteed by some of the warrants sent by the state.

At present there are no funds available from the state to pay off the warrants which have already been issued to the county. As a result, the Hancock county teachers, in company with other teachers of the state, have worked without funds, causing a great hardship and motor transportation contractors, who drive the trucks for school child transportation, have had difficulty in financing their work.

Supt. McQueen explained that at present there are about $12,000 in state warrants in Hancock county and that on Tuesday a warrant for $1,700 was received, and that when the state is able to redeem these warrants with cash that the teachers problem in the county will be solved. All of these warrants are for 1932. Only about $4,000 of the warrants hold over from the past session, the others being due for this year's teaching.

DEMOCRATS ORGANIZE WOMEN

Mrs. E. J. Lacoste is County Chairman — Mrs. R. L. Genin City Chairman.

The women of Bay St. Louis organized a Democratic Club Tuesday afternoon at the court house. The meeting called under the direction of Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, Hancock county chairman for Democratic women, an appointment she received recently from the National Democratic Women's Club. Mrs. Lacoste has the distinction of being the first Democratic woman chairman in Hancock county as she was named chairman for Bay St. Louis four years ago preceding the presidential election.

Officers elected for the Bay St. Louis Democratic women's organization follow: Mrs. Robert L. Genin, chairman; and Mrs. Stella Gex Burke, secretary.

The principal purpose of this organization of the women is "to get to the polls" at the November election. The largest number of qualified women voters, especially enlisting the assistance of active women in getting out the "stay at home women," and thus swelling the Democratic strength in this section.

Board of Supervisors.

The Board of Supervisors of Hancock county has continued in session throughout this month by recessing from day to day or with several days between, in order to be in session when word has been received from the state tax department regarding the local county tax rolls which had been assessed for both personal and real property by the board and sent to the state for approval.

The supervisors completed their county unemployment survey and the latter part of last week the information was sent to the governor to be used in his requisition for federal aid in this section.

YOUNG ATTORNEY ADDRESSES ROTARY CLUB WEDNESDAY

Chooses Columbus as subject Of Talk in Observance of Columbus Day, Oct. 12.

With a good attendance present, the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club met as usual Wednesday noon, at the Hotel Weston.

The speaker of the day was Lucien M. Gex, popular young attorney of this city, who spoke on Columbus, giving a biography of his life, in his natural interesting and inspiring manner.

Among other things, Mr. Gex spoke of the many hardships and experiences encountered by Columbus in his endeavors to reach this country which he called the new world and claimed for Spain; of his many visits to noblemen, kings and finally to Queen Isabel, who raised money to equip three vessels which were about the size of our fishing schooners, for him and his crews to make the treacherous voyage.

According to historians the amount needed to make the first voyage across the ocean was about $100,000 in American money.

Mr. Gex closed his talk by saying that Columbus had done more than any man for our country and that after returning to his native land was thrown into prison where he died.

Mr. Gex has addressed the club on other occasions and is always a welcome guest and his talks are anticipated with much interest.

John J. McDonald, presided in the absence of President Moreau.

Guests at Wednesday's meeting were Mr. J. R. Nason, of Gulfport, representative of the Illinois Central Railroad; Rev. Wm. J. Leech, of Pass Christian who is a frequent visitor and Rotarian; L. M. Gex, and L. S. Elliott.

ORGANIZE P. T. A. AT LEETOWN

Leetown Parent-Teachers' Association was organized Friday afternoon of last week under the sponsorship of Mrs. C. C. McDonald state treasurer, and Mrs. Milton Phillips, Hancock county chairman, both of Bay St. Louis who met with the patrons of the Leetown school and explained the purpose of the P. T. The election of officers resulted as follows: Richmond Smith, president; D. J. McCrimmon, vice-president; Woodrow Lee, secretary, and Miss Fleming, school principal, treasurer. Bay St. Louis, Miss., under Act of March 3, 1879.A HEALTHY SIGN.

IT is noted with interest and satisfaction that the depression has had little effect on the morale of our people over the country who give their support and influence to athletics and general sports.

When the people of a country continue to interest their minds in clean sports and participate in general sportsmanship it is a healthy sign and one that cannot be lost sight of even to the commentator. Clean minds, strong and healthy bodies and the general spirit and subsequent influence all contribute to that point indicative of better things.

It is noted our schools, colleges, universities have given athletics more attention the past decade of years than formerly and with each succeeding year such disposition increases.

Interest in baseball, football and basketball, each in season, commands an increased number of devotees and fans and may the number increase. Our schools, teaching the young mind to shoot, is doing double work for the youth of our land. The curriculum has not suffered. In fact, it has branched out and boys and girls who are physically fit are mentally as well and as a result accomplish more.

NO MIRACLE COMING.

THE people of Bay St. Louis, regardless of political persuasion, should strive to remember that the solution of most of their difficulties lies at their own doors.

There is no reason to get excited, lose all reason, and expect the world to turn over, and the United States to become a balloon, on the night of the national election regardless of who is voted our president for the next four years.

Naturally, there are policies that will have a decided influence upon our welfare, particularly in relation to agriculture, but, even these, are not the sole causes of farm distress. There are fields for us to work, and when we understand our problem, and undertake our part of the necessary work of rehabilitation, we will be getting somewhere.

ONLY WHAT WE READ.

THE writer is not an economic expert, nor a statistician.

Therefore, this is not a prediction that the corner, or that good times are at hand again.

Frankly, we know little about the entire matter. The more we think we know, the less inclined are the facts to support our hopes.

However, we read the writings of others and note that the wise boys are beginning to be optimistic, to say that definite signs appear on the horizon and that the trend is toward good business weather.

We trust that the wizards are right!

A local resident recently returned from a trip covering a wide range of territory notes that many railroads are running, in connection with their own immediate business, bus lines displaying name of the railroad company, signifying ownership and management. This it appears will solve a problem that is harrassing the railroads and embracing finances. The Missouri Pacific, operating from Memphis to Hot Springs and over to other points is one of the several railroads that has adopted this measure of self-preservation. This brings to mind the old saying that one must fight the devil with fire.

Many a city slicker has gone home to the people on the farm.

The year 1932 will go down in financial history as the Great Sag.

Scientists say that the cosmic rays are electrically charged. That beats the installment plan.

Just to show how little most of us know about the world, 388 persons were recently killed by an earthquake in Greece.

Somebody has offered a prize of $1,000 for the best playing of "psychic" baseball. Maybe that's what the Cubs were playing.

So far as we know the church owes very little to any man; but men owe very much to the church.

Who said Germany isn't a modern nation; doesn't she owe the rest of the world something like $4,912,000,000?

Every time we read the financial pages, we find that the trade gain is continuing. How far was the corner, anyhow?

With men in both parties urging a cut of $1,000,000,000 in federal expenditures, it begins to look like a cut is coming.

The Rockefeller fortune, estimated at nearly a billion, is said to have declined to $150,000,000. That's what we consider a decline.

The best way to end child labor is to fix a plan that will enable father to make enough money to take care of his entire family.

ACCOMPLISHMENT.

PEOPLES of a live and progressive community dream fondly of great accomplishment even though fearing these might never come true.

But to residents of this God-favored section many dreams, remote as they might have seemed at the time, have come true. The almost impossible, seemingly so prior to the time of realization, has come to pass.

Are we not proud of our $82,000 Central High School building, of our waterworks system and plant costing approximately the same; of our paved streets, seawall and beach boulevard, first of the kind constructed on the Gulf Coast; L. & N. railroad depot building, Waveland public school, O. S. T. Highway and hard-surfaced from Pearl river line of Hancock county to Bay St. Louis, and last but not the least thought of, the New Orleans "short-cut" to the Mississippi Gulf Coast?

Bay St. Louis dreamed many a year for its Central School building, pride and ornament to the city. And it was said at one time it could not be done!

Then the seawall project was lodged in the public mind, vainly, for many years until prestige, it was realized in the fullest proportion and uniform solidity.

The auto bi-county bridge, too, was seemingly far nigh impossible, but finally, thanks to those who made it a reality, waved in wand-like motion, and it was within comparative short time accomplished.

And by far, outstanding of all, save the coast seawall, now comes the La-Miss. short-cut road to the Gulf Coast. Not proposed, but forces of men in two States actually at work in the definite preliminaries. Not planning, but building; doing and creating.

Dreams come true. We have it exemplified in more ways than one. Not on assumption, but on fact and accomplishment one asks the question, "What next?"

ANOTHER SIGN.

A SHORT while ago announcement was made that the United States fleet would remain concentrated, as at present, in the Pacific Ocean. The reason assigned for this was economy.

Back of the announced reason, however, remains the sinister fact that the United States and Japan have disagreed critically in regard to the propriety and legality of the Japanese proceedings in the Orient. The retention of the entire American fleet in the Pacific is due to this friction, even although responsible naval officials cannot admit it.

Another brief news item comes to our attention. Orders have just been issued which places additional authority upon the Commander-in-Chief of the United States fleet in regard to Hawaii and the Canal Zone. This is a measure to promote unified control, especially desirable in time of war.

We do not go far enough to say that the United States and Japan will soon be at war. Much may happen to prevent this. We only go far enough to say that one or the other of the two nations will have to revise its present attitude of naval forces recognizes this possibility.

PRECAUTION PREVENTS FIRE LOSSES

IT is said that 90 per cent of the 186,894 forest fires, which burned over 51,578,310 acres last year, were caused by human carelessness.

We have no idea what per cent of all fires have been caused by lack of ordinary intelligence and neglect of primary rules of precaution. However, last year 10,000 Americans lost their lives as a result of fires, which destroyed half billion dollars worth of property.

Leaders who escaped direct injury should not congratulate themselves upon the theory that they suffered no loss. In increased insurance premiums they paid most of the bill, and if they were taxed a bit for that purpose.

Authorities tell us that a majority of fatal fires occurred in homes. This means that many little children were innocent victims of conflagrations they were not to blame for. The question is, who was?

Every citizen should keep a watchful eye for fire hazards. Look around your home, your office, or where you live. Clean up trash and debris. Make your premises as safe as possible. Because Oct. 9-15 is Fire Prevention Week it is a good excuse to take time to be careful before it is too late.

THE ABODE OF LASTING CHARM.

REGARDLESS of time or condition the Bay-Waveland strand along the gulf waters of this section ever remains an abode of charm, where one loves to live, and if not to stay, to linger then and only to leave reluctantly. This alluring power, this irresistible something, compelling charm combines most intriguing elements, a witchery as it were.

From whence this spell arises, this potent power, someone asks?

Combining as it does, many and varied influences, would be difficult to answer in single phase, but those who elect to live here and others who return season after season are best witnesses and give their attestation in unanimous acclaim to the effect Bay St. Louis and the balance of the Seacoast is the one place to live in contentment of mind and happiness of being.

It is truly the "Land of the Heart's Desire."

HUNTERS, BE CAREFUL.

HANCOCK county sportsmen are beginning to polish up their guns in preparation for the season's hunting.

They should be reminded that it is time to be careful. Last year 2,200 persons were the accidental victims of firearms. Some were cleaning their guns, others were carelessly handling them and some were killed because an overzealous hunter fired at moving bushes.

Familiarity breeds contempt, according to the old saying, but one should remember that a gun is an instrument of death, designed to slay and form the habit of being cautious.

WITH THE STATE PRESS.BUILDING.

NEARING $50,000,000 in building contracts was credited to the South last month, according to the latest survey by the Manufacturers Record, Baltimore magazine devoted to the development of more and better business in the nation, the South in particular.

Two Southern states, Mississippi and Tennessee were large contributors to the enormous total of new work starting or planned in Dixie.

Contracts for construction of new highways played a prominent part in the improvement program. In one day last month the awards for hard-surfaced roads exceeded a million dollars. States sharing in this division were Mississippi, Tennessee, West Virginia, Kentucky, Louisiana, South Carolina and Texas.

The Great Southern Lumber Company's expansion project at Bogalusa for which $1,250,000 in contracts have been awarded is included in the list reported by the Record.

Flood control work on the Mississippi river also helped build up the total while school, municipal and other miscellaneous projects figured heavily in the gross amount.

Contracts which will be filled are something tangible in the way of proof of better times. One of the most encouraging statements in the Record's bulletin forecasts the awarding of other contracts totalling more than $165,000,000 in the months ahead.

Surely the contractors who are spending these millions of dollars in new enterprises know, as all faithful and loyal citizens know, that the country is basically sound and that now is the best of all times to buy and build for the future.—Hattiesburg American.

Democratic Women Of State Organize

A meeting of unusual interest to the women Democrats throughout Mississippi is scheduled for Tuesday, October 11, 1:30 p. m. at the Edwards Hotel in Jackson, when the recently appointed county chairmen will gather to complete plans for women's Democratic organizations in each of the 82 counties. Carrying out the plans of Gov. Nellie Taylor Ross, vice-chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and head of women's division national committee in every state in the Union—including the Southern States—are perfecting strong organizations.

Mrs. Ellen S. Woodward, National Committeewoman for Mississippi, in issuing the call for the meeting stated that "While there is no doubt in the minds of anyone but that Mississippi will go Democratic, as usual, we are eager that every single Mississippi woman shall express her interest in national affairs by voting and using her political power to insure constructive, progressive leadership for the Nation."

County chairmen include: Harrison county, Mrs. B. E. Eaton, Gulfport; Hancock, Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, Bay St. Louis; Jackson, Mrs. W. B. Herring, Pascagoula; Stone, Mrs. Wyatt C. Eaton, Wiggins.

After I found how good Black-Draught is, that is what I have used. I guess it is a safe medicine, for I don't feel like dropping off to sleep every time I sit down. The Newspaper Man.

The following tribute to the newspaperman by an authority is reproduced in The Echo, during the absence of its editor-publisher:

I DOUBT whether there is another profession so fraught with genuineness and replete with knowledge as is the profession of journalism. The newspaper man has to be an observer, an encyclopedia, a psychologist, a student of human nature, broad in his understanding, sympathetic in his outlook, courageous in his opinions, and far-reaching as to vision.

The true newspaper man loves his work and counts not the cost, either in time of strength. Get the news, spread knowledge, search for truth, spare not—these are a few of the things that hover within his brain.

Actors and newspaper men get very close to human beings and you find among them some of the most tolerant and wholesome of men.

The newspaper man seems to have been born with a deep sense of loyalty. The paper and the public he serves always come first. It himself is an example of service. Always seeks to interest, instruct and to lead. He has a sort of composite soul.

You rarely ever hear of a rich newspaper man—except where he is an owner. And even then you find the same sterling qualities that are embedded in a humble reporter or writer. There is a wonderful camaraderie among newspaper men, too. They understand so much that the ordinary human never knows anything about. They seem to be embedded in a flow of events, happenings and achievements.

When you read your newspaper, bear in mind that much of that which entertains, informs and instructs you was gathered and put into its place in your newspaper while you were enjoying yourself, or were fast asleep. Dangers have been encountered, most unusual circumstances mastered, defeats swept aside—all to give you something for a few moments!

The real newspaper man is forever reading, observing, "learning, challenging, registering." He is a good man to know—and to learn from.

The American Woodsmen Singers, a group of four negroes from Alabama, will appear in a recital of negro spirituals Friday night, 8 o'clock, at the negro Baptist Church Waveland station. A small admission will be charged, this money devoted to work for the aged of the negro race. These boys sang Monday night of this week at the negro church at Waveland and pleased a large audience which included some white people. Seats will be arranged for the Friday night program for both white and colored patrons.

PRATHER McDONALD INTERRED

Former Bay St. Louis Resident Dies of Injuries Sustained in Auto Accident.

Prather S. McDonald of Memphis, Tenn., died at a hospital in Jackson, Tenn. early Sunday morning, of injuries sustained September 23 in an auto accident north of Jackson, Tenn., and the funeral was held in Memphis Sunday afternoon, with the Rev. Charles F. Blaisdel, a close friend of Mr. McDonald, conducting the services. Burial was in Forrest Hill cemetery.

The deceased was a prominent Memphis attorney. Born in Ashland, Miss., 46 years ago, Mr. McDonald resided in Bay St. Louis during his boyhood and young manhood, with his parents, Judge and Mrs. Will T. McDonald, who moved from Bay St. Louis to Memphis about eight years ago. Mr. McDonald was a graduate of the University of Mississippi and afterwards attended Harvard law school. After the World War in which he served, he became Belgian consul at Memphis and entered into law practice with his father, W. T. McDonald and his brother, W. Percy McDonald, chairman of the county school board.

Mr. McDonald was returning home two weeks ago from a business trip to New York and stopped en route for a visit with his friend, Gus Osofach, former Bay St. Louis resident. At Cincinnati he was joined by Miss Thelma Latimer, who with her brother owns and operates Allison's Wells, and she was making the day drive from Cincinnati to Memphis. Before reaching Jackson, Tenn., shortly after dark Mr. McDonald was driving his car to pass an approaching car, when he is said to have crashed into a truck which was parked on the roadside and had been abandoned there some three days before. Miss Latimer was killed in the collision and Mr. McDonald seriously injured. He was taken to the hospital at Jackson and appeared to be out of danger when a blood clot formed from the scalp injury and the heart stopped beating.

Surviving Mr. McDonald are his parents; Judge and Mrs. Will T. McDonald, two brothers, W. Percy McDonald of Memphis and Vance McDonald of Nome, Alaska; one sister, Mrs. Henry Yawn of Mississippi and two children, Marritte Soleyve McDonald, 14, and Somerdel McDonald, 10, of Memphis.

The Memphis and Shelby County Bar Association held special sessions Monday at which resolutions of respect for the deceased were passed.

Prather McDonald was a cousin of W. A. McDonald of Bay St. Louis. He has visited here often in the past few years especially during the two winters his late wife spent here several years ago.

HANCOCK COUNTY TO PROTECT ITS FOREST LANDS

Among other constructive measures passed by the last session of the Mississippi Legislature was House Bill 447. Section one of this Bill gives the Board of Supervisors of any county authority to levy a special tax, not to exceed 3 cents per acre, on the timbered land of the county for the purpose of "receiving the financial and supervisory cooperation of the Mississippi Forestry Commission in forest protection." This is the most constructive piece of forestry legislation passed by the legislature since the creation of the Mississippi Forestry Commission in 1926.

The people of Hancock county are to be complimented on the courage and wisdom of their Board of Supervisors in taking early advantage of this law in order to secure the rehabilitation and perpetuation of the greatest natural resources the county has, its soil and its potential forests. The order making effective a 3 cent per acre tax on timbered and uncul-tivable land (passed by the Board of Supervisors at their adjourned meeting held Friday, September 23) places forest protection in Hancock county on a firm financial basis and ensures an adequate and efficient forest protective organization.

This action on the part of the Supervisors is no sudden decision on their part, but is rather the result of careful study extending over more than a year's time. Back of the Supervisor's action also stands a strong public sentiment favoring the elimination of forest fires and the building up of the county's resources.

There is an interesting history in connection with the growth of forest protection sentiment in Hancock county. One of the first men to see the necessity of this work was the late Horatio Weston of the H. Weston Lumber Company. This company has for many years realized the possibility and necessity of conserving the county's forest resources. It has spent large sums in forest protection, planting and the like and for the past three years, has—with the cooperation of the Mississippi Forestry Commission—maintained a forest protective area of over 100,000 acres. The results of the work done on this area have shown the possibilities of forest protection and the reasonableness of its cost. During the past five years less than 6 per cent of this area burned over while 89 per cent of the rest of the county was burned.

Another factor in the building of forest sentiment in Hancock county is the Hancock County Bank under the leadership of Mr. Leo Seal. Years ago this bank was sending out literature urging the planting of trees and the protection of forest land. The success of this work in Hancock county can be attributed to Mr. Seal.

Able seconding the efforts of the other leaders in forestry work is the "Sea Coast Echo." This paper, according to District Forester K. E. Kimball, has been one of the principal agencies in South Mississippi for the dissemination of facts concerning forest protection. It has possibly done more than any other agency to get before the people of Hancock County the deplorable facts connected with range burning.

In close cooperation with the Board of Supervisors and ably advising them in the legal aspects of the forest protection matter is County Attorney E. J. Gex. The forest officials working in Hancock county are under obligations to Mr. Gex for the friendly advice and also to Mr. Robert Genur for legal and moral support. There might be enumerated many other individuals who have helped to mould the public sentiment which upholds the action of the Supervisors.

According to the district forester the funds raised by the forest protection tax will be matched by the State up to 90 per cent of the amount paid over to the Forestry Commission. These funds will be wholly expended in Hancock county except such amounts as are spent for materials. It is expected that more than $10,000.00 will be spent in wages during the next few months.

The district forester states that Mr. H. W. Givens will be in charge of the forest protection work, as he has been heretofore in connection with the smaller area. It is expected that two new lookout towers will be erected shortly, one about three miles north of Kiln and the other between Necessity and Sellers' school. From 30 to 40 miles of telephone line will be built connecting these towers with the Westonia tower and with each other and with the several smoke chasers, lookouts, and wardens. Fire fighting equipment will be purchased and an efficient protective force organized. It is expected to hold the range burned in the county during the next year to less than 15 per cent of the total acreage. If this is accomplished it will not be long before the increased value of the range for stock production will more than meet the cost of protection—to say nothing of the value of timber growth.

The counties which own the 31,000 acres of lieu land in Hancock county are being asked to contribute to the protection of these lands on the same per acre basis as other land in the county and are expected to comply.

When one considers that protected forest land will yield annually from $3.00 to $5.00 per acre income and pay from one to six percent on the investment in it, while burned over lands yield little or nothing and is a constant temptation to tax delinquency—it can well be understood that the wise action of the Board of Supervisors in levying the forest tax will ultimately mean a great deal in a financial way to the land owners, stockmen and tax payers of the county.

Boy Scouts Hold Weekly Meetings

The Bay St. Louis troop of Boy Scouts holds weekly meetings, each Friday night; finding a large number of boys assembled for the routine session. Last Friday night assistant scout master W. T. Jeffries was in charge of the meeting. The routine session opens with the recital of the Scout Oath in unison; collection of dues which is five cents per week; drill for five minutes; playing of games including "capture the flag"; announcement of any special program to take place during the week, and closing at 9 P. M., with the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

The Scout oath which every Boy Scout repeats at each meeting is indicative of the high purpose to which each scout is dedicated. This oath follows: On my honor I will do my best to do my duty to God and my country, to help other people at all times, and obey the Scout law to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight. No wonder the exemplification of this oath by Scouts in their daily life produces fine boys and fine men!

COMMENT ON SPORTS BY SHERIDAN

The World Series Yankees Maul Cubs.

Played before a disappointing crowd, the first game was an overwhelming triumph for the Yankees, 12 to 6. Technically, it was a poorly played exhibition, without great pitching, but was marked by several fine fielding plays.

With the Cubs leading 2-0 in the fourth, and the bases packed with Cub runners, Ben Chapman, Alabama left-fielder, darted after Herman's hard-hit drive and retired the side. Combs, in the 7th, raced into right to take care of English's wallop, and twice the Cub manager, Grimm, made stellar pick-ups around first base.

Bush, for three innings, put the Yankees down in order, but in the 6th gave place to Burleigh Grimes, Cardinal hero of last year's pitching triumph. The spit-ball, troubled all year by ill health, was not so good, and retired for an 8th-inning pinch hitter. Bob Smith ended for the Cubs. Ruffing, for the Yankees, lasted the game, but was outhit 10 to 8 and stayed in only because of his team's commanding lead.

The only homerun of the game was produced by Lou Gehrig in the 4th, when he hammered the ball into the right field bleachers, scoring two runners ahead of him. Afield, the Cubs made the lot harder for their pitchers by several tactical blunders, due to some extent to the inexperience of their players.

Second Game

With Lonnie Warneke on the mound in the second game, just after leading in all National League hurlers in his first year as a regular, the Cubs took it on the chin again, by a score of 5-2. There were no home runs, but young Warneke had serious trouble with his pitching mechanism and lost the decision to Vernon Gomez, Yankee left-hander who clearly outpitched him.

The crowd was somewhat larger than at the first game but the battle was not close enough to keep the spectators on an edge. It merely amounted to an exhibition of a superior team, demonstrating its mastery for almost two hours.

Again, the Cubs got away to a first inning lead of one run but lost it immediately when Warneke walked Coombs and Sewell, the first basemen to face him. Singles by Gehrig and Dickey brought in the two men. In the third, the Cubs tried it up but in the same inning Warneke, showing lack of control, and nothing like the "stuff" that he had during the season, passed Ruth and Gehrig, singled. Then, with two out, he passed Dickey to take his chance against Chapman, who promptly drove the home-run twins over the plate to give the Yankees a lead which was never threatened.

In fact, Gomez began pitching in splendid fashion and the Cubs had few chances. After the fourth, Warneke also pitched effectively but the damage had been done and the Yankees were off to two-game start.

Third Game

Journeying to Chicago, the two teams, after a day off, met for the third game, which proved to be a home-run exhibition, staged by Babe Ruth and his almost equally proficient colleague, Lou Gehrig. Each of the master hitters secured a pair of homers, which crushed the National League champions, and took most of the heart out of the series.

The Cubs fought fiercely and produced a couple of homers, one by Kiki Cuyler and the other by Gabby Hartnett, but these blows did not compare with the dramatic smashes of the Yankee wallops and did not come at opportune time.

The game was much livelier than either of the contests in New York, with the spectators keyed up to a holiday spirit in the air and a fervor was apparent in the midwestern audience.

In Good Times and Bad —Your Service Improves

Some of our customers have commented favorably upon the fact that telephone service is better than ever, despite the depression, and that their telephone friends seem as anxious as ever to satisfy the individual needs of subscribers.

This is gratifying, but quite natural when one considers that service comes first with telephone people and that they regard it as a serious obligation to serve the needs of the public efficiently, twenty-four hours a day, in good times and bad times.

During the past ten years the number of telephones in practically every community has doubled, and in some instances trebled. With this growth the service has become more complex but there has been a constant improvement due to scientific inventions, new methods and practices and a more skilled and experienced personnel. The value of the service has grown to the extent that it is regarded by many as the cheapest form of service that can be bought.

That the increased quantity and quality of the service has not been accompanied by a greater cost to the user is because of economies effected by new inventions and practices which have been passed on to the telephone using public in the form of more and better service.

Although your telephone company has suffered a serious loss in telephones and an enormous loss in revenue, there are still many more telephones in service than there were five years ago and the cost, compared with the value, scope and quality of the service is much less than it ever has been.

Telephone people have faced the depression cheerfully. They have accepted shorter hours in order that the work might be spread among as many as possible and with a determination to fulfill their obligation to render the best possible service at the lowest possible cost consistent with financial safety.

DRAINAGE ESSENTIAL FOR STRAWBERRIES.

NOW with strawberry growers getting their ground in condition for setting plants during November for next Spring's crop, careful attention should be taken to see that the land has proper drainage.

The letter plot of ground used will naturally give larger yields of high-quality berries, but when a man cannot always have his choice as to land, he should see to it that what he has is put into the best of condition as far as humanly possible. Strawberries must have sufficient moisture during the fruiting period if large yields of first-class berries are secured—and under the economic conditions prevailing at this time, only first-class products should be put on the markets.

In the process of preparing the soil it should be seen that proper surface drainage is provided to take care of heavy rainfalls at all times, and especially during the fruiting period, otherwise, dirty and poorly colored berries will result.

The ditches should be sufficiently close together to provide ample under-drainage as well, in order to prevent the water table being too near the surface which will cause the plants to die, or poor quality berries following spring rains. Where the ditches are sufficiently close to provide this under-drainage, unless the soil is well supplied with humus, or decayed vegetable matter to serve as a wick to hold and provide sufficient

The big game of the season comes off Saturday night at Loyola Stadium promptly at eight o'clock. The L. & N. has a special rate. Saturday tickets for the game may be had at the college. Ask any of the boys or inquire of Brother Casimir, Athletic Director. The boys are going over remembering the defeat of last year. It was the only game Stanislaus will play in the Crescent City this season. We do not want to make the Stanislaus Alumni ashamed, we do not want to make the parents of the boys feel bad—hence, a great game is in prospect, and we who must remain at home to hear the results—want a VICTORY.

THE ROCKETS (135-lb. team)

The Rockets (135-pound team) had a nice time at Savannah last Thursday. The country boys were just a little too big for them, notwithstanding, the boys put up a fine game as the score would indicate. The boys from Savannah were able to put over a lone touchdown and through the good work of the Stanislaus line were unable to score that extra point. Good work. They all expect to do better against the Biloxi team this week at Biloxi.

PASS CHRISTIAN MEN RECEIVE PATENT GRANT ON CRANES

Gus Bloom and George Fisher, Sr., Invent Mail Laising and Unloading Device.

Gus Bloom and George Fisher, Sr., both Pass Christian men recently received a patent from the United States Patent Office by their agent, Gus E. Temple, of Bay St. Louis. The patent is on "mail loading and unloading cranes" and is a new and useful improvement.

The invention relates to means for transferring mail to and from trains to mail bag mechanism located on station platforms and the like. An essential object of the invention is the provision of an improved mechanism for transferring mail to and from moving trains without damaging mail sacks in any respect. The device consists of 45 patent parts.

The invention was successfully secured through the efforts of the inventors' agent, Mr. Gus E. Temple, who has spent three years of untiring efforts to get the patent. On several occasions Mr. Temple made many trips to Washington to lay claims in behalf of Mr. Fisher and Mr. Bloom. Mr. Temple stated to a large crowd who gathered about to congratulate the inventors, that he had already received many letters containing offers regarding the invention.

Mr. Temple is a prominent business man of this city being connected with the Bay Music Store.

The patent was applied for on June 17, 1929, and patented September 6, 1932.

She Waxed Petulant

A young lady entered a stationery store and asked for a pound can of floor wax.

"I'm sorry, miss," said the clerk, "all we have is sealing wax."

"Don't get funny!" she snapped. "Who'd want to wax the ceiling?"—Boston Transcript.

13 to 6. The score just does not indicate the fight and team work of the Rock-a-Chaws. The Mobile boys were outclassed in almost every department of the game. Our sole weakness almost cost us the game. The boys will show a better pass defense against Warren-Easton Saturday night.

Monti, Colvert, Garcia and Kidd did some nice blocking last Sunday. Monti's block in the third quarter was the means of Kidd taking that long jaunt of forty-five yards which paved the way for the second touchdown. Castro, Bonura, Flink and Matherne gave some nice demonstrations of charging. Just a little bit faster for Warren-Easton Saturday night, and we are going to bring back a victory.

STANISLAUS COLLEGE ECHOES

A casual visitor to Stanislaus would be surprised to see the amount of studying that is going on. Upon further inquiry he would be informed that Term tests are going on. Yes every class is busy; every teacher has a battery of questions to ask and every boy is ready to top the ninety mark—maybe.

The Catholic Action Committee functioned at last Saturday's meeting of the Sodality. They introduced an apologetical series of talks. The feature of this is that the members may question the speaker when he has finished. The Public Forum idea seems to have gone over "big" and will be a feature of future Sodality meetings.

'WILD GIRL' IS NOTABLE FILM IN STORY, ACT- A N D TREATMENT

Charles Farrell and Joan Bennett in Film Directed By Raoul Walsh From Story by Bret Harte.

Film versions of famous stories have sometimes proved disappointing in the past, what with various changes to the plot and the characterizations to meet screen requirements. When, however, a notable story is found that needs no alterations, and it is given pretty nearly flawless casting, direction and setting, the result is a real event in film circles.

Such is "Wild Girl" Fox Films' new picture to be at the A. & G. Theater this Sunday and Monday.

Closely following the late Paul Armstrong's dramatization of Bert Harte's famous "Salomy Jane's Kiss," filmed in the majestic big-tree settings of Sequoia National Park in California, and with brilliant portrayals by Charles Farrell, Joan Bennett and the other players, this production ranks with the finest offerings since the coming of talking pictures.

The work of the principals will prove a revelation even to their most devoted followers. Farrell as the mysterious ex-Confederate soldier bent on grim revenge; Miss Bennett as the tomboyish child of nature; Ralph Bellamy as the suave and sympathetic gambler; Eugene Pallette as the boastful stage-driver, and Irving Pichel as the scheming rancher all give memorable performances, astonishingly real and colorful. The supporting players are equally well chosen. The backgrounds are a sheer delight. And Raoul Walsh, who has directed some of the most notable productions in screen annals, here outdoes any of his former efforts.

STANISLAUS "D" AND "E" ARE VICTORIOUS.

The Kiln High School Junior team fell in defeat at the hands of the Stanislaus "D" team last Thursday afternoon. The final score was 43-0.

It was the second win in as many starts for the Baby Rock-a-Chaws. Wilbur Carty and Victor Messa simply could not get it into their heads to take a rest as they were both in every play. Robert McGrath, and Edward Anderson did some stellar work at the center position. The Kiln team tried more than one off-tackle play to be thrown back by Iviecievich—Victor Gonzalez or Emmanuel Perre—John Maxwell combinations.

Vivian Gianelli started off the fire-works when on a received punt in the first few minutes of play he rounded right end for the first score. Interference on the part of his team mates was perfect. Captain Fagan scored two touchdowns via the end-run route. Little James Henry's aid in scoring came in the third quarter when he raced 45 yards off tackle and quad. Theodore Bourgeois' ability to catch a pass drew him into the list of scorers and he thus scored 12 points. Ignatius Defelice fell on a fumble over the goal for the seventh touchdown. Carty scored the only extra point on a pass thrown by Gerchow. A good deal of credit is to be handed to Dave Derbes who although he did not break into the scoring limelight did great at line bucking. The work of Bopp, Edgar Perre, and Jack McGrath is also worthy of commendation.

Stanislaus "E" 12 Bay Ramblers. It was a grand day for the two teams of the Junior division as both of them "Brought Home the Bacon." The "B" squad did not have to go far to play as they played a team from the Bay. Captain C. J. Stockton, Fred Fayard, Carland Anderson and Bill Robertson were just too good for their opponents. Joe Giovani showed up well on the line.

SODALITY NEWS.

Daily Honor Paid to Our Lady of the Rosary.

Last Thursday at the regular meeting of the Sodality one of the officials suggested that since October was dedicated to Our Lady of the Rosary, the sodality as a whole, should assemble in church every day to recite one decade of the Rosary.

The proposal met with everyone's consent and it was decided that a few minutes of the recess period should be devoted to this end. So at a few minutes after the ringing of the ten o'clock bell the majority of the high school girls can be seen directing their steps towards the church where in a body they recite one decade of the Rosary.

We hope that a few among these girls find time to say the other four decades and thus complete the Rosary daily.

The Rosary is the most beautiful prayer to our Blessed Mother and if this devotion is faithfully sponsored by all it will bring many blessings both to us and to those for whom we pray.

THE JAYS HAVE BEGUN.

This week we added another subject to our daily class schedule, only, no one seems to mind this period; in fact it's better than a free class and lots more fun than half a half of an afternoon off—for we don't even mind staying in school to learn the art of basketball!

Yes! We've really begun ball practice in earnest, all of us from our promising regulars to our willing if not very promising subs. What they're promising I can't tell, but let's hope it is to win every game S. J. A. will play this year. How about it Frances, Catherine, Alice, Evelyn and all the rest of you Gold Jays?

Gold Jays! That's what we call ourselves, dear people. And this year we mean to live up to that name just as our former teams have done.

Here we come!THE STORY OF COLUMBUS.

(As Rhymed by a Senior)
History tells of men of fortune
Men of great renown and fame
Who's foremost among those leaders?
Why! Columbus is his name.

His story is quite simple
In a few words it is told
Surely, every real American
Knows of Christopher of old.

Not quite five hundred years ago,
In those famous days of yore
A humble Genoese, with three ships
Set out to find the 'Indies' shore.

After months of endless sailing
Everyone was near despair
Alone, Columbus held firm faith
For staunch was his belief in prayer.

His perseverance was soon rewarded
On October 12, 1492
That America first came in view.

Now we see why we have reason
To honor one so loyal and true
And hence in union we all can say
"On this day, Columbus, we salute you."

October Meeting of Central School P. T. A.
Held Tuesday, 11.

The October meeting of the Central School P. T. A. was held in the auditorium of the school on the afternoon of October 11. The business meeting was held first and good reports from committee chairmen were heard. Mrs. Roland Weston reported that school books had been supplied to all children who needed them and Mrs. Seal reported a splendid response to the membership drive with 133 members already enrolled.

Mrs. Harold Weston read the by-laws of the organization as they now stand, having been revised to meet the present needs of the association and to bring them up to date. It was decided to give a play, for the benefit of the P. T. A. on Friday night, November 18, called the "Comic Characters Conviction."

Keep the date in mind and don't miss it, as it promises to be even better than the "Andy-Gump Wedding" of last year.

The program was opened with an inspiring talk and prayer by Mrs. Shipp. She pointed out the deep responsibility of parents and teachers toward the children under their care.

The president's message was read by Mrs. Phillips and Child Welfare Magazine discussed by Mrs. Jacobs.

Mrs. Craft, Supt. of the King's

Daughters Hospital, gave an interesting and instructive talk on the "Fundamentals of Nutrition." Her discussion of food value was able and clear-cut and was delivered in a most attractive manner.

The meeting closed with a splendid paper on "Your Child's School" by Miss Quinn, showing how the school tries to carry out the seven objectives of the P. T. A.

The fourth grade won the attendance present.

CARD OF THANKS TO THE VOTERS OF BAY ST. LOUIS.

I wish to thank the voters of Bay St. Louis for the splendid vote received by me in the first Primary last Saturday. I lacked but 18 votes of being nominated in the first primary and now maintain a lead of 89 votes over my opponent. I am going into the second primary believing that with this lead and the clean race I have made, that the voters of Bay St. Louis will declare me the nominee for the office of City Commissioner in the second primary to be held Saturday the 15.

I again assure the voters that if elected I shall stand by my platform and shall not create new offices, incurring additional expenditures to make good campaign pledges.

You are for economical, honest, efficient administration having in mind a radical tax reduction, promising help to no one man in particular but "Help for All."

H. GRADY PERKINS.

I am particularly grateful to those of you who voted for me, and hope to prove to you that I am deserving of the office you have given me.

You are for an honest and faithful administration.

W. L. BOURGEOIS.

Miss Delie McConnell Writes of Trip

Miss Delie McConnell of Bay St. Louis who is now at Ocean Park, Cal., and who has been touring the west during the summer, writes to The Echo of her trip and excerpts of her experiences are most interesting. Regarding her visit to the Olympic stadium she states:

The Hollywood Electric Parade at the Olympic Stadium was gorgeous. Gov. Roosevelt was present. Welcomed by Will Rogers who was wildly applauded. The floats with their different hued flowers and scantly robed beauties, played over by constantly moving rainbow searchlights, gave you an unearthly pleasure as if seen through water or clouds

Miss McConnell writes of her trip to the Yosemite Valley, along the Columbia Highway and to San Francisco:

We first visited the Mariposa Forest of Giant Redwoods. The Grizzly Giant is 209 feet high and 27 feet in diameter. Its age is estimated at 3800 years.

Then to Yosemite climbing high, with sudden curves to precipitous sides.

El Capitan, the Sentinel, the Dome, and Holy Dome are some of the huge mountains. Camp Curry, entirely of tents nestles at their feet. The falls, Mirror Lake are beautiful.

After that, Sacramento Klamath Lake and then Crater Lake most startling of all. Crater Lake is in a wide deep rocky bowl whose sides are tinted pink and purple. It appears literally like liquid bright blue paint.

Near there you pass Mount Washington and Mt. Jefferson with snowy tops.

At Dallas the Columbia Highway begins, it hugs the sides of the mountains, while far below flows the beautiful Columbia river. All along you recognize views seen on postcards. The different Falls are Portland is divided by a river. Roses bloom profusely also the mountain Ash, which only grows in high, cold spots. It rained after we left there.

The Oregon Coast Highway is mountainous and has a rocky coast. The redwood Highway follows and is like a string of blue and white beads. Fist an interval of crested breakers and then the shaded depths of the redwood route.

San Francisco is a charming place; such steep streets. In the theaters men are allowed to smoke in the balconies. Sparks like lightning bugs twinkle everywhere in the darkness.
